

We would like to thank you for your patience. The current lockdown and the restrictions over Christmas have been challenging for many of us and many are struggling. We know that you, like us, are struggling with the confines imposed upon us all due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

We are looking forward to the rolling out of the Covid vaccine and this improving the quality of life for all of us.

The approval of the Oxford/Astra-Zeneca vaccine provides a major boost to our plans to offer protection to our patients, but we will not be able to vaccinate everyone at once, so we ask for your continued patience. We have not forgotten you Please do not contact the surgery nor the hospital to seek a vaccine, we will contact you in the order that the NHS has instructed us to. You will receive either a text, letter or phone call inviting you for a vaccination when it is your turn to receive one.

The new guidance from the JCVI (Joint Committee on Vaccination and Immunisation) on the period between doses also means that we will be to get the maximum benefit for the most people in the shortest possible time and will help save lives.

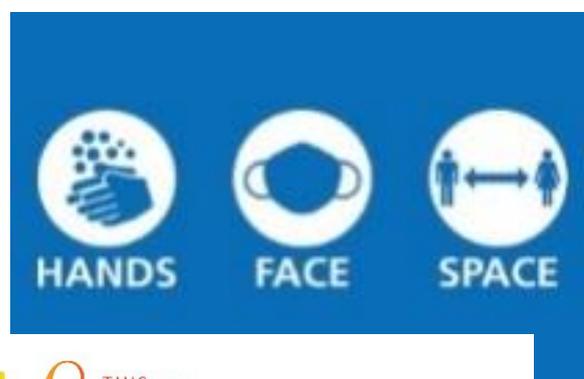

The large increase in Covid cases hospitals are seeing and the emergence of a new variant of the virus also shows that we cannot let our guard down now and even those who have received a vaccine still need to follow social distancing guidance.

Please continue to abide by all the social distancing and hand hygiene guidance, which will still save lives.

Everyone is trying to make the best of the situation and, as a practice, we are committed to caring for you in the best possible way whilst keeping both you and our team safe.

From all at the Prince of Wales Surgery
